Box No. III Non-establishment of opinion with regard to novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability

1. The questions whether the claimed invention appears to be novel, to involve an inventive step (to be non-obvious), or to be industrially applicable have not been examined in respect of:

☐ the entire international application,

☒ claims Nos. 17

because:

☐ the description, claims or drawings (indicate particular elements below) or said claims Nos. are so unclear that no meaningful opinion could be formed (specify):

☐ the claims, or said claims Nos. are so inadequately supported by the description that no meaningful opinion could be formed (specify).

☒ no international search report has been established for the said claims Nos. 17

☐ a meaningful opinion could not be formed without the sequence listing; the applicant did not, within the prescribed time limit:

☐ furnish a sequence listing on paper complying with the standard provided for in Annex C of the Administrative Instructions, and such listing was not available to the International Preliminary Examining Authority in a form and manner acceptable to it.

☐ pay the required late furnishing fee for the furnishing of a sequence listing in response to an invitation under Rules 13ter.1(a) or (b) and 13ter.2.

☐ a meaningful opinion could not be formed without the tables related to the sequence listings; the applicant did not, within the prescribed time limit, furnish such tables in electronic form complying with the technical requirements provided for in Annex C-bis of the Administrative Instructions, and such tables were not available to the International Preliminary Examining Authority in a form and manner acceptable to it.

☐ the tables related to the nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence listing, if in electronic form only, do not comply with the technical requirements provided for in Annex C-bis of the Administrative Instructions.

☐ See separate sheet for further details

Box No. V Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Statement

Novelty (N)	Yes: Claims	14
	No: Claims	1-13, 15, 16
Inventive step (IS)	Yes: Claims
	No: Claims	1-16

2. Citations and explanations (Rule 70.7):

see separate sheet

Re Item I.

1.0. The amendments filed with the International Bureau under Article 19(1) introduce subject-matter which extends beyond the content of the application as filed, contrary to Article 19(2) PCT. The amendments concerned are the following:

"... a plurality of shallow surface channels ..." (cf. claim 1).

Consequently claim 1 has been understood as not having that amendment.

Re Item III.

1.0. Claim 17 relates to a mattress defined by reference to the description and the drawings. According to Rule 6.2(a) PCT, claims should not contain such references except where absolutely necessary, which is not the case here. Furthermore the features of the claim are not known.

Consequently, the examination has been restricted to claims 1-16

Re Item V.

1.0. Reference is made to the following documents:

D1: US 2002/178505 A
D2: US-A-5 463 785
D3: JP 2001 204590 A
D4: US-A-4 967 433
D5: JP 08 252152 A
D6: US-A-4 796 316
D7: DE 297 19 194 U1
D8: DE 196 47 669 A
D9: US-A-5 546 618

2.0. INDEPENDENT CLAIM 1

2.1. The present application does not meet the criteria of Article 33(1) PCT, because the subject-matter of claim 1 is not new in the sense of Article 33(2) PCT.

Document D3 (see fig. 1-7) discloses (the references in parentheses applying to this document):

a mattress (see fig. 1), comprising:
a resilient body (1) having at least one upper surface portion for supporting a person;
and
a plurality of ~~shallow~~ surface channels (2,3) disposed in the or each upper surface portion and extending parallel thereto wherein at least one upper surface portion is upwardly inclined (see fig. 7) relative to the horizontal (cf. claim 1).

2.2. Furthermore the documents D1,D4,D5,D7,D8 (see search report) show the characteristics of claim 1.

3.0. DEPENDENT CLAIMS 2-16

Dependent claims 2-16 do not contain any features which, in combination with the features of any claim to which they refer, meet the requirements of the PCT in respect of novelty and/or inventive step (see D1-D9 and search report) (Article 33(2) and (3) PCT).

original claims 1-17 replaced by amended claims 1-17]

1. A mattress, comprising:
a resilient body having at least one upper surface portion for supporting a person; and
a plurality of shallow surface channels disposed in the or each upper surface portion and extending parallel thereto;
wherein at least one upper surface portion is upwardly inclined relative to the horizontal.
2. The mattress of claim 1, wherein the body has an axis of elongation corresponding to the head-to-toe direction of the person lying, in use, on the mattress, and at least one upper surface portion is inclined relative to the axis of elongation.
3. The mattress of claim 2, wherein at least some of the surface channels have a component of direction, along at least a portion thereof, parallel to the direction of rising incline of the respective surface portion.
4. The mattress of claim 2 or 3, wherein at least some of the surface channels have a component of direction, along at least a portion thereof, parallel to the axis of elongation.
5. The mattress of any of the preceding claims, wherein at least some of the surface channels extend substantially diagonally so as to make an angle of less than 90° with the axis of elongation.
6. The mattress of any of the preceding claims, wherein at least some of the surface channels have a non-linear path, when viewed from above.
7. The mattress of any of the preceding claims, wherein the body comprises sidewalls adjacent said at least one surface portion, the mattress further including at least one connecting channel, the or each connecting channel being in communication with a plurality of said surface channels and with at least one sidewall.
